...

Facts/Market Data:

We have seen some significant reports during the last 3 weeks, all of which have proved bullish, and as a result almond prices have increased.

The bullish reports started with a surprising Californian acreage report from the National Agricultural Statistics Service [NASS] on the 29th April. The 2015 almond acreage figure was revised to 1,110,000 acres, up 6% from the 2014 figure of 1,050,000. The report shows 890,000 of bearing acres and 220,000 are non-bearing acres.
